SPEAKING OTHER LANGUAGES

The German Club was very active this year. Their fall adventure was when they went to see "The Stratton Mountain Boys," a performance by the National Theater of Performing Arts. The program included Austrian folksongs and dances and music played on old Austrian instruments and Alpine horns.

For Christmas they decorated a Christmas tree, sang German Christmas Carols and ate some traditional German Christmas foods at their party.

On their spring field trip they went to Frankenmuth, Mich., a community of German origin and style. While in Frankenmuth they visited Bronners, the worlds famous store of Christmas decorations, saw the Glockenspiel portray the story of the PIED PIPER OF HAMLIN and toured the Carling Brewery.

The Spanish Club had several interesting activities. The first part of the year they went on a field trip to Toledo, Ohio, to see 400-year old paintings by the Spanish master El Greco.

Christmas, which is called Fiesta de Navidad in Spanish, was celebrated by breaking a pinata in the traditional way.

For the carnival they had a nacho chip stand and they also had a lottery game.

While on another trip to the Eli Lilly chemical plant and Children's Museum in Indianapolis, all 25 members went. The club also tried something new this year by sponsoring a Valentines Day dance.

The Photo Club, consisting of 10 members, bought T-shirts alike this year. Learning how to make black and white negatives, prints, picture post cards, and "wanted posters" was a new experience for the five new members this year. Working together as a club they had the Coin-in-the-Mug carnival booth.

Tammy Lockwood, Brenda Smith, Colleen Thomas, Jim Crody, Jeff Houlton, Wesley Gilbert, Mary Mullendore and Cynthia Hulbert decided to tour one of the first trains on display at the Children's Museum in Indianapolis.

They had many of the school's assemblies. The assemblies were the Campus Life band "Sweetfire," the film "Stampede," a presentation titled "Genetics and Life," a demonstration "Energy for the Future," and the Marine Bowl.

For the Christmas holiday the student council sponsored a semi-formal dance which was held in the high school gym. They also bought a Christmas tree for the high school lob-

The 82-83 Hamilton High School Band was involved in many activities this year. They raised money for their new uniforms, placed second in the Auburn fair, played at half-time during the football season, during basketball games, and at pep sessions. They also had Christmas and Spring concerts.

The Jazz Band had a "Lights and Music" show at their concerts and at basketball half-times.

The band council is made up of students who make all the important decisions for the band. This year's council consisted of Wesley Gilbert (President), Cathy Weicht, Tammy Lockwood, and Cindy Hulbert.

Each receiving a first at state competition for their instrumental solos were Cathy Weicht, Tammy Lockwood, and Jeff Houlton.

NHS members put in several hours working at school activities such as collecting tickets at the games, running the scoreboard, and keeping time.

This year they sold apple cider and also sold donuts at the carnival.

The Homecoming game followed the parade. The victory was lost to the Fremont Eagles 28 to 6.

Computer class always has room for creativity.

The school purchased 12 TRS-80 Computers for the high school and 8 Commodore-64 computers for elementary use this year.

This is the first year that Hamilton has offered its students a class that gives them a chance to work with computers and a course in computer programming.

Typing II also offered Word Processing this year for second semester. The school newspaper was done on computers as well.

"THE MURDER ROOM"

"THE MURDER ROOM" was Hamilton's fall drama production by Jack Starkey and was directed by VonDle Romine.

The story centers around Edgar Hollister whose body disappears after his wife apparently kills him.

As the story continues, Edgar's dingy daughter, Susan, and her fiancé Barry return from America to find Susan's father missing.

The mystery is finally solved when Constable Howard (who is really Edgar Hollister) finds out that the Inspector of police, James Crandall, is really his wife's lover and that they are trying to kill him for his money.

The play ends with a surprise twist as everything seems to be resolved but then, at the last minute, Mavis tricks Edgar again and finally kills him with poisoned cocoa.

Inspector Crandall and Constable Howard question Mavis about the disappearance of her husband Edgar. Cast: Mavis Hollister (Marta Waddups), Inspector James Crandall (Wesley Gilbert), Constable Howard/Edgar Hollister (Bruce Buchanan).

An astonished Barry catches Susan as she faints at the sight of her missing father.

"WORKING!"

It took several weeks for the cast to get ready for their April 21, 22, and 23 performances.

The 1983 Spring Musical was Studs Turler's WORKING! Fifty-six Elementary, Jr. High, and High School students performed in this challenging musical that was directed by Mr. John Wilson.

The story was about people and their occupations. Characters told how they felt about their lives and their jobs. There was every occupation from a housewife to a truck driver, from a waitress to a steelworker, from a mason to a secretary, from a checker to a gas man.

During the show, the workers told how they felt they could have done something else better and been somebody. By the end of the show, the workers realized that they liked their jobs and that what they did was important.

Nicole Alexander shows what it's like to be a millworker through her dance.

A yearbook is a book compiling a one year history within its covers. To have a good yearbook you have to have a good staff, a concerned sponsor, and lots of generous advertisers. I felt like we had these.

I would like to thank Mr. Reinhard for his time and patience and the staff for accepting their responsibilities and for their effort.

I would also like to thank our advertisers for their financial support and THE HAMILTON NEWS for their pictures.
